

Ireland...Northern West Country side towards Donegal city and its wild Islands, Arranmore and Tory.

Motaz Othman - Ireland
Islamic Tourism Media

The landscape, cows and cheeps grazing in the green fields are really amazing in Northern West of Ireland, a picture is better than a thousand word.

As we start our trip towards the northern country side, an amazing green fields on your right and left scene, cows and cheeps are freely grazing from the clean grass. It was really wonderful scene and green landscape. Our guide Ms. Barbara told us on our way about the quality of the beef meat here in North Ireland, so when we stopped for our lunch at Tankardstown

Restaurant (House) in Slane city, the lady asked me what would you like to eat, I said Beef for sure, a beef burger presented to me, the meat was so fresh and tasty, we had our meal facing the green landscape, We feed our stomach, our eyes were viewing the landscape together with the fresh air, all was healthy and enjoyable.

The stunning Slieve league (Grey Mountain)

One of the most stunning views was the Grey Mountain in Sliah Liag, the highest and one of the finest marine cliffs in Europe with a nearly sheer drop of roughly 2,000 feet separating the Atlantic Ocean from the highest point of the cliff. The view was amazing, green mountains, blue water in the Atlantic Ocean and fresh air.

Moving forward, Ireland in general and the northern part is famous with its pubs and Bars, in fact it's a restaurant, where you can have fresh food, but it's so nicely decorated and most of the Pubs and Bars are very old, hundreds of years old, with interest and historical paintings and collections inside the Pub and on the walls, you feel like you are with very original people.

Leo's Tavern Pub

Leo's Tavern is one of Donegal's most famous pubs. Leo himself is an extremely popular musician, father of the highly renowned musicians "Clannad", and the success story of

"Enya" the younger daughter who needs no introduction for her musical achievements with her album "Watermark" and "Orinoco Flow" charted all over the world. Irish Music and food presented to us with a great hospitality and entertainments.

Tory Island and its monarchy

Tory Island is an island of mystery and antiquity off the northern tip of Donegal. Interesting historical